

Picturing America

Civic Reflections: Picturing America and the Changing Face of American Democracy

Picturing America is an innovative program that helps teach American history and provides students with a gateway to the entire universe of the humanities. Picturing America is funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities and is offered by the Deerfield Teachers' Center of the Pocumtuck Valley Memorial Association (including Memorial Hall Museum, Indian House Children's Museum, and the Memorial Libraries) in Deerfield, Massachusetts.
